Fall and Winter Driving Training 2005

1. The coming of the inclement weather season demands alertness to numerous serious dangers inherent in operating motor vehicles. Proper training of all personnel on winter driving hazards and techniques is an effective method of reducing accidents. This is the direct responsibility of the unit commander.
2. IAW Army in Europe Regulation 600-55 Winter Driving and Quarterly Refresher training will be conducted during the month of October and November 2005. OF 346 and DA Form 348 (Equipment Operator's Qualification Record) of applicants and licensed operators will be annotated to indicate training was performed. Failure to meet this requirement results in denial of military driving privileges until 15 March 2006.
3. Units providing their own training, have to inform the US Army Garrison, Schinnen Driver's Testing Office on the action taken NLT 1 December 2005. Training material concerning this subject can be obtained from TSC or from US Army Garrison, Schinnen Reg. 385-1, Chg1 Winter Safety.
4. Personnel arriving after 1 October 2005, and attending the regular Drivers Improvement Program, do not have to attend this Winter Driving Orientation. This is included in the Driver Improvement Program.
